Nine Personality Types Of The Enneagram

You can think of an Enneagram Personality Type as a constellation of habits of attention, emotion and strategies. It is a map that helps you navigate reality, but it is not reality itself.

Each of the Nine Types in this system has a unique world view 'filter' that colors everything they think, do and say.

Your particular 'Type' filter has been there since you were very young, so you are probably unaware of its effect on your behavior.

Trying to communicate with someone who is looking through a completely different filter can be frustrating and lead to many misunderstandings!

Knowing your Type sets you on a path of deeper understanding of self and others. It can assist you in moving past triggers, blocks and blind spots of personality into a fuller, freer and richer experience of life.

Enneagram, pronounced 'Any-a-gram,' is a diagram with nine points, representing nine personality types.

We May Just Be The Group For You

The Meetup group is designed to deepen the understanding and utilization of the Enneagram system to enhance our self-awareness and our awareness of others and their motivations. This discovery and examination process will ultimately cause our private and professional lives to become more open and vibrant.

Newcomers Welcome

Bring an open mind and a willingness to consider new ways of observation. All levels of Enneagram knowledge are welcome, from beginner to advanced. We offer an opportunity for all to learn and interact in community.

Different Topic Explored Each Month

Short presentations are devoted to specific topics related to the Enneagram. Experiential practices, exercises and group discussions are often included.
